Ray Mears, 26, Sought for Shooting

NEW HAVEN, Ill. (AP)—An old-age pensioner was shot to death near New Haven late Friday and authorities are seeking a man who borrowed a shotgun a few minutes before the slaying.

Gallatin County Sheriff Millard Holloway said Vincent York, 70, New Haven died enroute to Ferrell Hospital at Eldorado of shotgun wounds of the chest, shoulder and eye.

Warn Against Throwing Garbage In Allies Or On Vacant Lots

Reports of people throwing garbage in alleys and vacant lots in the city of Harrisburg are being received by the police, Chief Ross Lane reports.

This not only creates offensive odors, but is a breeding place for rats and flies.

Anyone caught disposing of garbage in alleys, vacant lots or other public places will be prosecuted in accordance with city ordinances.

Report Convict Gives New Details Of Marilyn Sheppard Slaying In Lie Test

Husband, Serving Life Term for Murder, Will Be Given Test In Prison Next Week

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A convict who claims he killed Marilyn Sheppard disclosed details of the murder that were never made public, it was reported today.

Statements made by Donald Joseph Wedler, 23, to a lie detector expert, were given to Lt. Gov. Paul M. Herbert, counsel for Dr. Samuel Sheppard, Cleveland osteopath serving a life term for his wife's murder.

Herbert did not give newsmen the unpublished details of the Sheppard murder that Wedler mentioned while being questioned by Alex Gregory, the lie detector expert, in Deland, Fla.

Sheppard himself will undergo a lie detector examination by Gregory, it was announced after Ohio Gov. C. William O'Neill authorized the test on the basis of the "confession" made by Wedler.

Wedler told newsmen in Deland Friday night that he entered a Cleveland home on the night Marilyn was killed, beat a woman with a steel pipe as she slept and then struck someone who rushed upstairs.

Sheppard maintained throughout the trial that he was lying on a couch on the night of the murder and rushed upstairs when he heard a noise only to be knocked unconscious by a bushy-haired intruder.

Even so, Cleveland authorities remained skeptical about the Wedler confession, noting discrepancies. For instance, Wedler said he struck the woman only a few times while an autopsy report showed she had been bludgeoned about 35 times.

Permit Pope School Dist. to Annex to Independence Unit

Circuit Judge C. Ross Reynolds recently gave a decision allowing members of Rose School District No. 28, Pope County, to annex to Independence Community Consolidated School District No. 53, Saline County.

The decision by Judge Reynolds reversed a Feb. 11, 1956 decision by the Pope County Board of School Trustees.

Patrons of Rose District had petitioned to join the Saline county district as it was nearby, that Pope county roads were in poor condition and that if the children had to attend school in Golconda that the pupils would be forced to spend long hours on the busses each day.

Arguments against allowing the transfer were that it would tend to further weaken the educational structure in Pope county.

There are 15 pupils in Rose School District.

Expect 85,000 At Billy Graham Rally Tonight

Vice President Nixon Will Be A Special Guest

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Graham will preach tonight before an anticipated Yankee Stadium audience of 85,000 persons gathered for a mammoth rally that will be a climax, but not a finish, to his crusade to save New York.

The rally, at which Vice President Richard M. Nixon will be a special guest, was to have been the last meeting in Graham's 10-week crusade, but Friday the revival was extended to Aug. 10.

Graham said Friday night before delivering his 60th Madison Square Garden sermon that the crusade might continue "until we're thrown out of town."

"This is God's doing," he said. "We must give Him the credit."

Although the home of the New York Yankees baseball team seats only 67,000, there is room for many thousands of standees in the stands and on the outfield grass, a Graham spokesman said. More than 85,000 persons are expected to attend the rally.

Graham hopes tonight's rally, which will be held even if it rains, will be one of the largest gatherings in the history of the Christian church.

His previous high attendance was recorded in Wembley Stadium in London, when 120,000 persons came to hear him speak. His largest attendance in the United States was 75,000 at the Cotton Bowl in Dallas in 1953.

The rally will be telecast coast-to-coast over 50 stations, ABC-TV, 6-7 p. m. c.s.t. but will not be seen on television in New York.

Friday night in Madison Square Garden, the number of "decisions for Christ" recorded by Graham's listeners reached a record total of 35,236, as 596 persons came forward to make "decisions." The previous record of 34,653 "decisions" was set in London's Harringay Arena in 1954.

Hoffa, Acquitted Of Bribery, May Face More Questioning

Drastic House Cuts

Martin Says Foreign Aid Program Can Get By With Trimmed Measure

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass.) said today that President Eisenhower's foreign aid program can get by with the sharply-cut bill passed by the House.

The House approved the measure Friday night 234-154 after a hectic turnabout session at which millions were cut, restored and recut from the bill in a matter of hours.

Martin appeared to assume that a Senate-House conference to work out differences between the House and Senate versions of the foreign aid program would restore some of the money cut by the House.

House Cuts Deeply

The Senate voted $3,617,333,000 for the program for which Eisenhower asked $3,864,410,000. The House cut from Eisenhower's request to $3,116,833,000—a cut of nearly 20 per cent.

"When the bill comes out of conference with the Senate," Martin told a reporter, "I'm sure it will be satisfactory to the administration."

All-White Jury To Face Thorny Clinton Decision

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—An all-white jury from the hill country of Tennessee face an unprecedented decision here Tuesday when defense and government attorneys present final arguments in the trial of 11 segregationists charged with hindering integration of Clinton, Tenn., High School.

The jury of ten men and two women will be asked to furnish an answer to one of the thorniest questions facing the South—how far the government can go to back up the Supreme Court's integration order.

The defense contends federal agents cannot pick out faces in a crowd of integrationists and send those persons to jail and that the government has done little more than pick out the faces of the defendants in the Clinton trial.

However, the prosecution holds that a definite web of circumstantial evidence of conspiracy to interfere with the school's integration has been built around the 11 defendants.

The jury, made up of 11 persons all 40 or older, pondered the weighty case during a weekend recess that followed the end of the defense's case Friday.

Both the defense and government cases will be spelled out to the jury Monday in summary form. That will take all day, with the squad of defense attorneys taking up four hours and the government two.

Judge Robert J. Taylor will also deliver instructions to the jury Tuesday.

Jack Morris Named Field Assistant by Attorney General

Attorney General Latham Castle today announced appointment of Attorney Jack Morris of Eldorado, who will represent the Attorney General's office as Field Assistant in Saline county. The appointment is effective August 1.

Atty. Morris returned to Eldorado recently and entered private practice of law following three years as assistant United States District Attorney in the Eastern district of Illinois. He resigned as an assistant U. S. district attorney effective July 1.

Morris, a 31-year-old native of Eldorado graduated from Columbia University and George Washington University School of Law, Washington, D. C. His Eldorado offices are located at 1315 Locust street.

"It is the duty of field assistants of the Attorney General's office," Castle said, "to represent the Attorney General's office in legal matters assigned to them in counties in which they serve. Mr. Morris is an able attorney and will, I am sure, fulfill his duties conscientiously and competently."

Chairman Thomas S. Gordon (D-Ill.) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee said the House cuts "do not seriously harm" the President's program for bolstering 59 U. S. allies around the world.

Military Item Biggest

The biggest item in the program approved by the House was $1,500,000,000 for military aid—planes, tanks, guns, and ammunition. Eisenhower asked for 400 million dollars more.

The House-passed program also included 600 million dollars—300 million dollars less than Eisenhower asked—to help financially weak allies maintain larger defense efforts than they normally could afford.

Navy to Speed Discharges

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy has raised its intelligence standards in an effort to speed the discharge of more than 15,000 sailors.

The Navy's action was prompted by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson's recent order reducing the manpower strength of the armed forces by 100,000. To comply with the directive, the Navy will have to cut 15,900 from its rolls by next January.

Navy Secretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. told Navy commanders to force the discharge of enlisted men with scores of less than 42 on the Navy's "general classification test." Highest possible score is 77; the navy average is 48.9.

The Navy also said it intends to reduce its officer strength by 1,635 mainly by releasing junior reserve officers now on active duty. It said it also would curtail officer procurement programs and reduce recruiting quotas.

Fate of Natural Gas Bill in Doubt

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 13-man minority of the House Commerce Committee warned the House Friday the committee's natural gas bill would boost consumers' gas bills by one billion dollars yearly and hand a 30-billion-dollar windfall to an industry already booming.

But the committee majority, in a separate report, contended that consumers would get "fair and just" treatment under the bill. It said passage of the legislation is necessary to free the industry from unworkable federal controls.

The bill, approved by the committee last week, would relax federal controls on gas producers. Under its provisions producers would be allowed the going field price of "reasonable" market price.

The fate of the new bill still is in doubt. House leaders have said they won't call it up unless advance counts indicate it has a good chance of passage.

Lions to Meet Monday At Fairgrounds to Prepare Stand for Fair

Members of the Harrisburg Lions club will meet at the Saline County Fairgrounds Monday evening and work to get their stand ready for the annual Saline County Fair starting Sunday, July 28.

The Lions have operated the grandstand concession stand at the fair for the past several years. All members are urged to come to the fairgrounds Monday ready to work. This will be the regular weekly meeting. There will be a picnic-type lunch served.

Dr. Ben Stripling To Fill Pulpit at First Baptist Church Sunday

The pulpit of the First Baptist church will be filled by Dr. Ben R. Stripling, son-in-law of the former pastor, Julian Atwood. Dr. Stripling is the pastor of the Richland Hill Baptist church in Fort Worth, Texas. He is acting for the pastor, Rev. R. J. Morman, who is on vacation.

DISQUALIFIED FROM CONTEST—A Long Beach, Calif., police officer moves in to aid Leona Gage, who was picked to represent the U. S. in the Miss Universe contest, as she breaks down while being questioned by the press about rumors that she is married and the mother of two children. Miss Gage at first denied the rumors but then broke into tears and admitted that she was married and a mother. She was automatically disqualified as a contestant and Charlotte Sheffield, 20, of Utah, was selected as Miss U. S. A. The rumors about Miss Gage's marriage originated in Baltimore. Sgt. G. N. Ennis later admitted that he and the winner were married in Vernon, Tex., on Feb. 3, 1953. Their sons are one and three years old. (NEA Telephoto)

First Latin Winner

Peruvian Socialite Named Miss Universe; Never Been On Date

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Miss Peru, who's sweet 18 and never been kissed, reigned today as the most beautiful girl in the world and the first Latin to win the annual Miss Universe contest.

Gladys Zender, a graceful brunette from Lima, wept without shame Friday night when Carol Morris of Iowa, last year's Miss Universe, presented the successor with a red satin cape and glittering crown.

The well-chaperoned Peruvian socialite (36-23½-36) never had a date alone with a fair friend, but she charmed the pageant's judges with her South American way and won the title over 75 candidates.

Gladys also may be the first victor of the worldwide pageant not to accept the prize of a $10,000 tour because she has been so closely guarded in the past in keeping with the old Spanish tradition.

Her trip to Long Beach was the first time she had been out of Peru, and she previously had been permitted to leave her Lima home only with friends and always with a chaperone.

Gladys' father, a wealthy Lima paper manufacturer, explained why she did not immediately accept the offer of a tour.

"She must always be accompanied by her mother," her father, Eduardo, said. "I have not decided yet if she will accept this tour."

Miss Brazil, Terezinha Gonçalves Morango, 20, finished second in the competition.

Third place winner was Miss England, Sonia Hamilton, 23, of London, while Miss Cuba, Maria Rosa Gamio, 19, of Havana, came in fourth.

For the first time, a Miss U. S. A. was not among the 15 semifinalists. Miss Maryland, Leona Gage, 18, won the title, but was disqualified when her mother-in-law blew the whistle on her, revealing she is married and the mother of two children.

Miss Gage left pale and shaky on a midnight plane for Baltimore at the urging of contest officials before the Miss Universe winner was announced.

Before leaving she announced she probably would accept an offer to sing and play the piano at the Tropicana, Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev. A Tropicana spokesman said she probably would return west in "a week or so" to start rehearsing for a new show to start Sept. 4, with a 6-month contract for around $200 a week. Among other offers was one to play a supporting role in a Columbia picture.

Hoffa thanked attorney Edward Bennett Williams and his aides. He thanked the mostly-Negro jury and said its verdict "proved once again that if you are honest and tell the truth you have nothing to fear."

Hoffa's attorney promised jestingly to send a parachute to Rackets Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy who had said he would jump off the Capitol dome if Hoffa were acquitted.

Seniors to Register At HTHS Monday

All students who will be seniors at the HTHS this fall are urged to be at the school Monday morning.

YOUNG LOVE—Ten-year-old bride Mrs. Charles W. Turner, Jr., and her 19-year-old husband, both of Columbia, Mo., hold hands after returning from Mexico, Mo., where Turner was released on $300 bond after arraignment on a charge of making a false affidavit to procure a marriage license. The bride, the former Donna Sue Nichols, and Turner were wed June 17. The license showed her age at 15, but State birth records proved her to be ten. Missouri law prohibits marriage of persons under 15 without a court order. (NEA Telephoto)

Verdict Clears Way for Drive To Succeed Beck

Midwest Teamster Czar Will Face 'Clean Up' Ticket

WASHINGTON (AP)—Newly acquitted Teamster crown prince James R. Hoffa today faced possibly more trouble with the Senate Rackets Committee that accused him of bribery.

Committee members indicated Hoffa probably will be called to testify when the committee opens a rackets investigation in New York.

A federal jury cleared Hoffa Friday of charges that he bribed a Senate Rackets Committee investigator, John Cye Cheasty, to steal committee secrets during its investigation of the giant Teamsters Union.

The verdict presumably cleared the way for Hoffa's expected drive to succeed retiring Teamster President Dave Beck—a prime target of the Rackets Committee.

To Meet Friends

"Little Jimmy"—long regarded Beck's heir apparent—said he will meet with his union friends in Chicago within a week "to decide what my future activities will be."

Hoffa, czar of a Midwest Teamster empire, would oppose a clean-up ticket backed by Beck's foe, Secretary-treasurer John English.

Rackets Committee Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) served notice that his New York hearings will begin soon. He declined direct comment on Hoffa's acquittal but said Hoffa's name figures in the New York phase of the committee's inquiry and he "might" be called. Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.), top ranking Republican Rackets Committee member, said more directly "I anticipate that he will."

'Miscarriage of Justice'

"While I have not been able to attend the Hoffa trial personally, the information which has come to me would indicate that this verdict is a miscarriage of justice," Ives said.

Spectators who heard the foreman of a federal court jury say "not guilty" after four hours and 46 minutes of deliberation, disagreed. A marshal bellowed "Quiet in the courtroom" as a burst of cheering came from the white spectators.

Hoffa thanked attorney Edward Bennett Williams and his aides. He thanked the mostly-Negro jury and said its verdict "proved once again that if you are honest and tell the truth you have nothing to fear."

Hoffa's attorney promised jestingly to send a parachute to Rackets Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy who had said he would jump off the Capitol dome if Hoffa were acquitted.

Two Killed, Three Injured in Auto Crash on U. S. 66

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—Two persons were killed and three others were injured early today in a head-on crash on U. S. 66 south of Springfield.

State police said the two persons killed were Mrs. Clarence Kirby, Brownsville, Tex., and a man tentatively identified as John Glanders, Carlisle.

Injured were Mrs. Kirby's husband and their daughters, Helen, 12, and Joyce La Verne, 11.

State police said the car which crashed into the Kirby station wagon was owned by Glanders, and they tentatively identified its driver as Glanders although there was no identification on the body.

State police said the Glanders car apparently got in the wrong lane of the highway and was heading north in the southbound lane south of Glenarm.

Regular Care's Key in Insect, Disease Fight

By JARDNER ZADE
NEA Service Staff Writer

Midsummer is a critical time of the year when rose plants need protection. Heat and humidity are prime factors for the rapid development of black spot and mildew.
It would not be unusual to have your rose bed looking in top condition when you left on vacation and come home in two or three weeks and find it almost leafless.

The successful battle against fungus diseases and insect pests depends on regularity to a great extent. Dusting or spraying with a mixture of fermit and DDT at regular intervals will keep damage to a minimum.

It is recommended that dusting and spraying be done in the early morning or late afternoon every 10 days. This application should cover both sides of the leaves and be reapplied promptly after heavy rain.

Hot weather is not a serious problem to healthy rose plants as long as a regular schedule of care is followed. Giving roses adequate water is probably the prime responsibility during hot, dry periods.

Water is important to keep the blooming rate and growth and to build energy which will mean better plants next year.

While hybrid roses are hardy enough to do well with only minimum care, a plentiful supply of water will bring them to the peak of loveliness.

A schedule of long soaking at regular intervals is the secret of successful watering. The best method is to let the water slowly trickle over a board at the base of the plant. This will give an even watering and avoid washing away the dirt from the plant's base.

The soil should be soaked to a depth of at least 10 inches. Avoid late afternoon or evening wetting of the foliage since this often contributes to the spread of fungus diseases.

Naturally a good damp soil attracts weeds. These may be discourage by mulching with peat moss, composted grass clippings, buckwheat hulls, ground corn cobs or other available material.

Mulching will also keep the soil moist and cool. Any cultivation of the beds should be kept light and close to the surface. Deep cultivation may seriously injure the hairlike roots.

Roses use up a large amount of the available food supply during the active growing period. So additional applications of plant food will be needed to replenish the bed.

Organic fertilizer, such as well rotted manure, may be worked into the soil to keep plants healthy and vigorous.

The spraying and care of roses must be continued until cold weather sets in.

No More 'English'
Just Plain Walnuts

WASHINGTON (U)—The Agriculture Department announced today that it's going to stop calling English walnuts "English."

Effective Aug. 18 with the adoption of a new set of official crop standards, they will be just plain walnuts, the department said.

Officials said all commercial walnut production in the U. S. today is concentrated on the Pacific Coast—as far away from England as you can get in this country. The name "English" is a "misnomer carried over from the time when the walnuts were brought to this country in English ships," the department said.

The British embassy commented that "her majesty's government makes no claims to the name, although we like the thought" of using the term "English walnuts."

The Illinois Rural Safety Council predicts that one of every 17 farm persons in the U. S. will suffer a disabling injury as a result of an accident.

450,000 Cattle On Illinois Farms

SPRINGFIELD (U)—A near-record 450,000 head of cattle were on grain feed on Illinois farms July 1, 7 per cent more than this time last year, the State-Federal Crop Reporting Service said today.

The cattle on feed at the beginning of the month were exceeded only by the 453,000 head reported in July, 1955, the service said.

The crop service survey indicated about 72 per cent of the cattle were steers, 26 per cent heifers and 2 per cent calves, with about 10 per cent to go to market this month, 25 per cent in August, 27 per cent in September and the remainder at a later date.

SIU Country Column

By Albert Meyer

Farmers in Ireland arise late in the morning, but make up for it by working late hours in the evening, according to Peter McCormick, Irish relative of an Olmstead farmer who visited at a recent meeting of the Educational Council of 100 on the Southern Illinois University campus. He is visiting relatives in the United States and was the guest of his cousin, J. C. McCormick, Olmstead, member of the council board.

Arising at 8 a. m. to start the day's work wouldn't seem to fit very well into an Irishman's summer working day schedule, but this isn't unusual in the Irishman's native country. Because of its northern latitude, there are more hours of daylight in the Emerald Isle during the summer than in Illinois, permitting farmers to work later.

Peter McCormick says that the dairy farmer in Ireland gets high forage production from his grazing land, giving it heavy livestock carrying capacity. McCormick keeps some 80 head of livestock on his 80-acre dairy farm at Stones-town, Delvin, in Westmeath.

The Irish have done much in using grass varieties that are highly nutritious for cattle and sheep and that produce heavy yields of forage. Temperatures and rain fall are especially favorable to pasture and hay crops. Because of the amount of rain, farmers there have little success with producing wheat and corn McCormick says. He depends heavily on pasture forage to carry his dairy cattle, keeping most of the farm in pastures. His main feed crops are oats, barley, mangels, (stock beets), and turnips. It takes just 10 acres to produce this feed for his herd. He rents another 10 acres for hay production.

Farm labor is plentiful, so McCormick normally employs three men and may use up to five hired men during the harvest season. Farm fencing is entirely different than on the American farm. Fields and farms in Ireland are separated by ditches from which the earth has been piled up into walls. Atop the earthen walls grow hedges. Not only do the earthen barriers and hedges prevent livestock from straying, but they provide shade for farm animals in summer and serve as protection from cold winter winds.

Southern Illinois farmers with dairy or beef cattle herds would do well to take lessons from past experience, regardless of the abundance of good green pasture forage available during the rainy spring. Pastures most likely will become short as the summer advances, and supplementary feeding will be needed to keep up milk production from the dairy herd and to maintain the rate of gain in weight for the beef animals.

Good grass silage is an excellent supplementary feed. Due to the rainy season, soft fields, and lush growth of forage, many area farmers found it difficult to get into the fields to chop grass silage at the best stage of plant development this year. However, assuming that the farmer managed to get some into the silo, he ought to start feeding silage to his dairy cattle as soon as the pasture growth begins to slow down so that milk production will not drop. Good quality hay will serve about the same purpose in the absence of silage. Planting a field of sudan grass for summer pasture is a good practice, too.

The time to clip pastures is nearly here. July is generally the month for doing this job, although

Douglas Advice—Talk Like Senators, Not Court Justices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas, a professor but not a lawyer, interrupted a heavily legalistic civil rights debate Friday with a plea to his fellow senators to talk like senators—not members of the Supreme Court.
When a lawyer becomes a U. S. Senator, the Illinois Democrat said with a smile, "You get a man who thinks he is a justice of the Supreme Court."
"It's intoxicating enough to be a senator," he added, but "I'm appalled" to see a senator take the floor, "fancy himself Chief Justice of the United States . . . and try to hand down Supreme Court decisions."

Editors Subject to Pressure from Friends, Panel at SIU Conference Says

CARBONDALE, Ill. — Pressures from friends are as dangerous to the small town editor as restraints attempted by his enemies.

This statement by Horace V. Wells Jr., editor of the Clinton (Tenn.) Courier-News, was supported by editors from three other states in a panel discussion during the third annual National Conference of Weekly Newspaper Editors (July 15-19) at Southern Illinois University.

"Your friends want the news published fully, as long as it doesn't affect them," Wells pointed out in a session on "Restraints on a Free Press in America." He said the editor must be a lonesome soul who will not play favorites.

At the conference, Wells received the 1957 Elijah P. Lovejoy Award for Courage in Journalism presented by the SIU Department of Journalism. Wells was cited for "realistic devotion to the principles of law and order" in connection with his fight last year to uphold the Supreme Court's ruling on school integration.

Another panelist, Houston Waring, editor of the Littleton (Colo.) Independent, agreed that friendship was one of four major pressures confronting the weekly editor. Others he listed were the community's dominant church, its public officials, and advertisers.

Waring said editorial independence is not a reality unless the newspaper is a financial success. "I doubt that America's press would be any freer without advertising," he stated. "Other methods of financing newspapers have not proved to be any more satisfactory."

Carl Hamilton, editor of the Iowa Falls (Ia.) Citizen, said editors must convince their readers that the freedom of information they seek is not for selfish gain but rather for the people's right to know. "Since World War II, we have thrown off many wartime controls but we have not regained that right to know," he claimed. Hamilton criticized secrecy in government which he said "continues from one administration to another."

The Iowa editor maintained that blunders in government are often hidden from the public by marking them "classified" or "top secret."

Most editors accept more favors than they should, according to the fourth panelist, John Maher, managing editor of the Babylon (N.Y.) Leader.

"The editor should recognize 'influence peddling' for what it is," Maher said. "Instead of allowing the public relations people to do his research for him, he should make an honest effort to get both sides of every story."

Dr. Howard R. Long, chairman of the SIU Department of Journalism, was panel moderator.

Tips on Traffic Safety

By CHARLES F. CARPENTIER
Secretary of State

The necessity for absolute concentration on the task of operating a motor vehicle cannot be stressed too strongly.

A motorist should devote all of his attention to his driving. He should look well ahead and he should be aware of the situation behind him. He must expect the unexpected at all times.

The alert driver will be aware at all times of the prevailing speed limit and will not exceed that limit. He will slow down at night and for hazardous road, traffic and weather conditions.

Such a motorist will also come to a complete stop at stop signs and will observe stop and go signals. All signs and warnings indicating curves, hills, grade crossings, no passing zones, etc., will be heeded.

A driver who fully concentrates on his driving obligation is a safe driver. And safe drivers save lives.

"I do not discredit miracles, but we are not going there for a miracle," Skelton said. "Richard does not want a miracle. He just wants to see Lourdes, just like he wants to see the Pope while we are here."

Sunday School Lesson

Pastor First Baptist Church
Vandalia, Ill.

'Caleb--Man of Faith and Courage'

Numbers 14:6-9; Joshua 14:6-14
GOLDEN TEXT: "Even the youth shall faint and be weary, and the young men shall utterly fail: but they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength." (Isaiah 40:30)

INTRODUCTION—Caleb is one of the most interesting and inspiring characters who ever lived. He was content to serve well and live quietly. However, what an example of faith and courage he does furnish us. "He wholly followed the Lord."

When we first see him he is a man of faith and courage. He and Joshua were the only two out of twelve spies who were willing to trust the Lord to lead them to victory. At the age of 85 he still had the same courage of youth. It was all because he put his complete trust in God.

How wonderful it would be if many young people, who will study this lesson, would put their complete trust in the Lord and "wholly follow Him." What a difference it would make when they come down to the end of life and look back over it.

I CALEB'S FAITH-ISRAEL'S

FEAR (Numbers 14:10-12)

Israel is now on the very border of the "promised land," Palestine, which God had promised them. It would seem that, after all the miracles God had performed for them in the past, that they would march right on into the "promised land." However, they did not. Some of the folks were a little skeptical. Somebody made a motion that a "committee" be appointed to investigate the prospects and report back.

On this committee they appointed ten conservative minded men and two men of great faith and courage. The latter two were Joshua and Caleb. Ten of the men said: "Yes, it is a great land, a land flowing with milk and honey," but there are some obstacles. Joshua and Caleb tried to persuade the people to march forward and claim the land, but they were swayed by the dismal report of the ten.

Many a church family is halted today because of a small group of conservative minded individuals who fear a few obstacles in the future.

II CALEB'S FAITH—GOD'S PROMISE (Joshua 14:6-9)

Forty-five years have passed now, and Caleb reaches back to claim a promise made by God through His servant, Moses. Caleb stood before the people and testified that he had "wholly followed the Lord."

Here is a real lesson for all of us. "The just shall live by faith" is what the Bible teaches. We begin to exercise faith the minute we confess our sins to God, repent (turn away from) of our sins, and put our complete trust in Jesus Christ as our own personal Savior. This is only the beginning. From that time forward we live by faith in God. He becomes very real to us. He walks by our side daily. Caleb could claim God's promise, because he had this kind of faith. So can you!

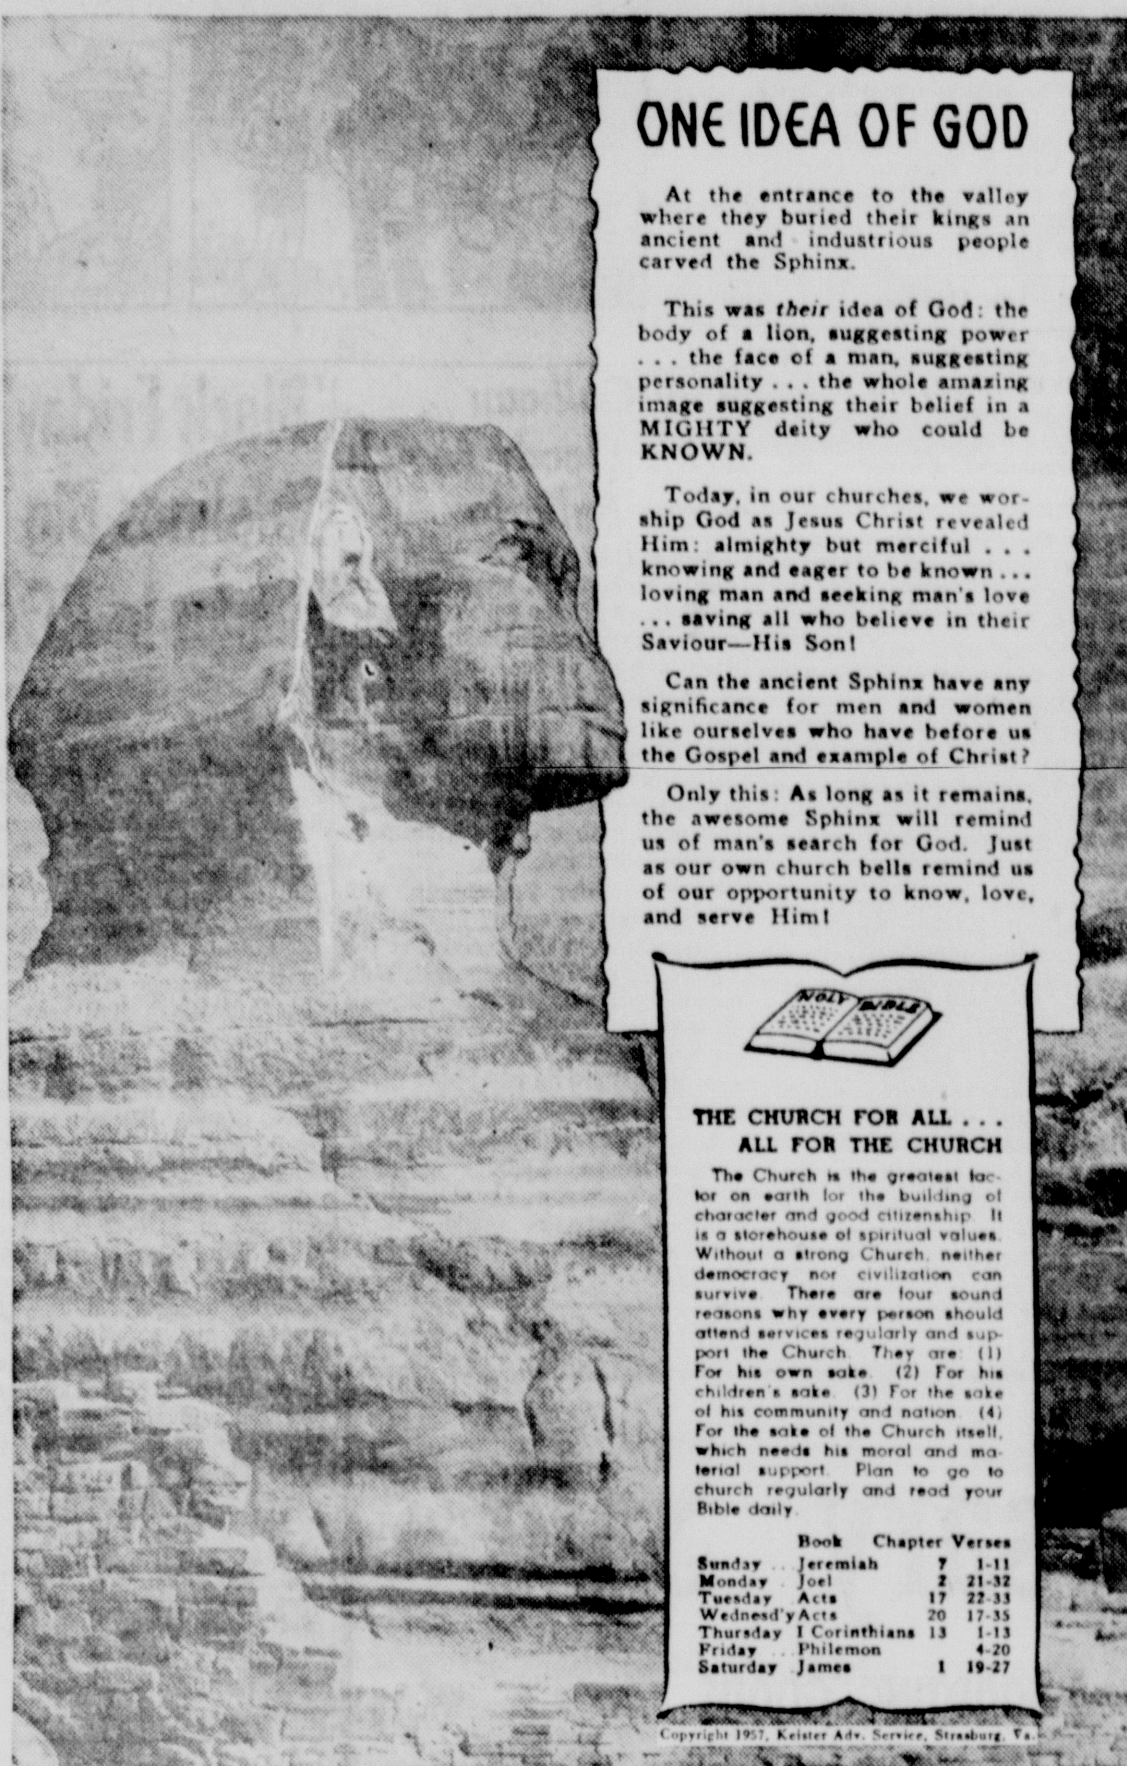

III CALEB'S FAITH IN ACTION (Joshua 14:10-12)

Look at this 85 year old man stand with courage in the midst of the people. Listen as he puts younger men to shame who lack courage.

We would expect an old man like this to ask for an easy assignment. Not so! Old Caleb said: "Give me this mountain!" He felt as strong and able to claim this land at the advanced age of 85 as he did forty-five years before when he was just forty. Why? Because he knew God was with him! A person like that cannot be defeated.

CONCLUSION (Joshua 14:13-14) Caleb received his "inheritance," and, along with it, God's blessing. He deserved every blessing, because he had proved to the people that God keeps His promises.

Caleb did not ask for an easy life. Young people today need to be taught that the easy life leads to downfall in character. The difficult tasks in life tend to build good character. Caleb was a man of faith and courage. Let him be an example for all of us!

ONE IDEA OF GOD

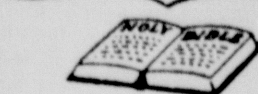

At the entrance to the valley where they buried their kings an ancient and industrious people carved the Sphinx.

This was their idea of God: the body of a lion, suggesting power... the face of a man, suggesting personality... the whole amazing image suggesting their belief in a MIGHTY deity who could be KNOWN.

Today, in our churches, we worship God as Jesus Christ revealed Him: almighty but merciful... knowing and eager to be known... loving man and seeking man's love... saving all who believe in their Saviour—His Son!

Can the ancient Sphinx have any significance for men and women like ourselves who have before us the Gospel and example of Christ?

Only this: As long as it remains, the awesome Sphinx will remind us of man's search for God. Just as our own church bells remind us of our opportunity to know, love, and serve Him!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Duke Snider Leads Dodgers To Double Win Over Cubs; Pirates Blank Cardinals, 7-0

By United Press
Duke Snider is talking to himself again and it sounds like money in the bank to the delighted Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Duke insists he does his best hitting only when he talks to himself at the plate. He began giving himself pep talks right after the All-Star Game and take a look at the results:

He has hit seven home runs in nine games since then; his batting average has jumped 10 points to a season high of .282, and the rejuvenated Dodgers have won eight of their last nine games to climb within one game of the National League lead.

Snider put on quite a show as the Dodgers swept their first double-header of the season Friday night by copping a two-nighter from the Cubs. In the opener, which the Dodgers won, 6.3, in 10 innings, the Duke slammed a homer in the 10th, and then clouted his 23rd circuit of the season in the third inning of the nightcap to aid in a 5-3 triumph.

Snider's first homer of the night tied the opener at 3-3 and rookie John Roseboro followed with a three-run homer to win the game. Lee Walls hit two homers for the Cubs and Bobby Morgan one. Sandy Koufax struck out 11 Chicago batters but the victory went to reliever Clem Labine.

Braves Retain Lead

The Duke's second homer gave Sal Maglie a 3-1 lead in the finale and after Chicago tied the score, the Dodgers scored a pair in the sixth for their sweep. Ernie Banks and Bob Speake homered for the Cubs.

Milwaukee retained its one-game lead with a 3-1 victory over the Giants, while Cincinnati defeated Philadelphia, 7-2, and Pittsburgh blanked St. Louis, 7-0.

The Yankees widened their American League lead to six games by mauling Cleveland, 9-1. Boston whipped the White Sox, 5-2; Baltimore topped Kansas City, 4-2, and Detroit beat Washington, 4-1.

Veteran Andy Pafko drove in all three of Milwaukee's runs with a pair of homers off southpaw Johnny Antonelli. His second home run with one on in the ninth brought lanky Gene Conley his third victory. Bobby Thomson produced the Giants' only run with a fourth-inning homer.

Cincinnati knocked out Phillie ace Jack Sanford with a five-run

Eldorado Merchants Play Uniontown Sunday

The Eldorado Merchants will be host to the Uniontown Colored Cardinals Sunday.

"Big Jim" Bumpus is manager of the Kentucky club, one of the most interesting to play through this area this season.

In a previous game played at Uniontown, Eldorado won by a 7-2 score.

The game Sunday will be played on the Kaleigh diamond starting at 2:30 p. m. Eldorado players are requested by report at 1 p. m. for pre-game practice.

rally in the fifth and went on to total 15 hits, one of which was George Crowe's 21st home run. Southpaw Joe Nuxhall of the Redlegs gave up only four hits, including a homer by Roy Smalley.

Vern Law of the Pirates limited the Cards to nine scattered hits as Pittsburgh rapped rookie sensation Von McDaniel for six runs in 5 2-3 innings. Frank Thomas homered for the Pirates.

Bill Skowron's 15th homer with two on off Bud Daley highlighted a seventh-inning, five-run rally for the Yankees, who have now won 18 of their last 21 games. Southpaw Whitey Ford was the winner although he left in favor of Art Ditmar in the seventh when his left shoulder tightened. Gene Woodling homered for the Tribe.

Ted Lepcio slammed a three-run homer off southpaw Billy Pierce in the third inning and that was all the Red Sox needed as Willard Nixon and Ike Delock collaborated on a six-hitter. Nixon was the winner.

Rory Calhoun Wins Bloody Match From Ballarin

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Winner Rory Calhoun and loser Germain Ballarin of France both were automatically suspended today for 30 days because of face cuts suffered in Friday night's bloody television fight.

Middleweight contender Calhoun, the 3-1 favorite, required 14 stitches on his left cheek and brow although he went with the unanimous 10-round decision.

The surprising Frenchman, with the luxuriant, drooping black mustache, who won the acclaim of the 1,447 fans in War Memorial Auditorium by leading in the first half of the bout, needed nine stitches on a deep gash in his left brow and three more on two lesser nicks in the same area.

Although their immediate plans are indefinite because of their wounds, promoter Norman Rothchild of Syracuse would like to have a re-match in September or October.

'Black Friday' Sidelines Big Names in PGA

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Lionel Hebert, trying to make a golfing gamble pay off, faced Walter Burkemo and Don Whittey in the semifinals of the PGA golf tournament.

So the field in this 39th annual PGA tournament had narrowed down to three youngsters and the 38-year-old Burkemo, considered one of the best match players in the business, after the usual "Black Friday" had sent defending champion Jackie Burke, Sammy Snead, favored Doug Ford, Tommy Bolt, Ted Kroll, Mike Souchak, Claude Harmon and U. S. Open champion Dick Mayer to the sidelines.

Hebert, who quit his job as a club pro at Erie, Pa., a year ago "in an attempt to go out and make a name for myself," was coming close to winning his big game. Only 29, and noted as a trumpet player when he attended Louisiana State University, he knocked out Souchak and Harmon in Friday's two 18-hole sudden-death rounds.

But in Burkemo, he was meeting a player who always has been at his best in match play. The blond pro from Franklin, Mich., who won this PGA in 1953, has been in the finals of this tournament three times in the past six years. No golfer over his career span in the game has a better match play record.
